

Policy Aims and Objectives of the National Property Administration in 2023

Revitalizing the use of national assets and creating diverse development benefits

- (1) Taking over national real estate actively and improving non-public use property to achieve activation benefits.
- (2) Improving the knowledge and ability of agencies regarding the management of national public use properties; providing consultation regarding revitalizing the diverse use of national properties, improving benefits, and contributing to the national treasury.
- (3) Promoting public affairs and public construction in conjunction with governmental agencies at all levels, and providing the national real estate required to facilitate national development.
- (4) Releasing national lands by utilizing methods of the lease, tender, establishment of superficies, and improvement for flexible use, to diversify and revitalize the use of national assets to create greater value through these assets.
- (5) Managing actively the occupation issues of national non-public use real estate, revitalizing the use of recovered lands, and improving management benefits.
- (6) Assisting in the division of labor for coastal environment clearing and maintenance work to maintain the cleanliness and tidiness of coastal lands.
- (7) Continuously organizing the restoration and management maintenance work of national non-public-use cultural heritages, and duly conserving and revitalizing cultural assets.
- (8) Organizing environmental cleaning and maintenance for national non-public use properties and reinforcing patrol inspections of high-risk areas for Dengue Fever carrying mosquitoes, to create premium living environments for neighboring communities.
- (9) Using royalties of property rights of superficies as consideration to develop office buildings in cooperation with private resources, duly utilizing national resources, and saving financial expenses.