I. Summarized Comments

Achievements in “Enhancing national property management and creating benefits through property revitalization”: The National Property Administration (NPA) has, according to relevant regulations, recovered more than 50,000 pieces (records) of the occupied national land for non-public use. In this regard, the NPA has taken proactive actions in response to the issue of occupied national land, which was a concern to the Control Yuan and society. Please continue developing effective measures to demonstrate the government’s positive attitude in safeguarding national property. With respect to “Property revitalization through diversified approaches”, the NPA has created a revenue of more than NTD4.2 billion through various revitalization initiatives including lease, establishment of superficies through open tender or improvement of land use. You are requested to urge relevant competent authorities to tidy up or review national building lands not in use, pursue diversified utilization and revitalization of the land, so as to reduce the management efforts of the government and increase national treasury income.
