

Policy Objectives and Strategies of the National Property Administration in 2026

Revitalizing National Assets to Create Diverse Benefits

1. Taking over national real estate proactively to meet the needs of expanding National Property Administration operations.
2. Enhancing expertise in the management of national public use property to promote diversified revitalization, improve the efficiency of national property utilization, and increase national treasury revenues.
3. Assisting government agencies at all levels in appropriating national real estate for official or public construction projects to advance national development.
4. Introducing private resources through diversified means such as leasing (including lease by tender), establishment of superficies, and improvement and utilization, to implement national policies and accelerate the revitalization of national real estate.
5. Investigating and handling occupied national non-public use real estate to achieve fairness and justice, and strengthening substantive land management.
6. Implementing coastal environment cleanup to reduce waste at the source and enhance maintenance.
7. Strengthening patrols and inspections of high-risk dengue fever sites to ensure environmental cleanup of national non-public use land, reduce the risk of dengue transmission, and create a better living environment in local communities.
8. Restoring, managing, and maintaining national non-public use cultural assets proactively, while fostering public-private partnership in conservation and revitalization, to restore the original character of cultural assets and preserve historical memory.
9. Collaborating with the private sector in office building development through superficies royalties, making proper use of national resources to provide safe office spaces.
