

Policy Aims and Objectives of the National Property Administration in 2025

Diversified utilization of national assets to enhance asset activation efficiency

- 1. Proactively taking over the national real estate and reclassifying it as non-public property for better utilization.
- 2. Strengthening the knowledge and skills of government agencies in managing national public property, and guiding the diversified activation and utilization of national assets to enhance their efficiency and contribute to national revenue.
- 3. Supporting government agencies at all levels in their administrative or public infrastructure projects by assisting them in providing the necessary national real estate to promote national development.
- 4. Aligning with national policies by integrating industrial development and private sector needs through leasing, establishing superficies, or improving the utilization of national land, thereby diversifying the activation and use of national assets to enhance their effectiveness.
- 5. Intensifying the inspection and management of occupied national non-public real estate, recovering the land for diversified utilization, and improving management efficiency.
- 6. Implementing coastal cleaning and maintenance to ensure the cleanliness of the coastal environment.
- 7. Actively restoring and managing national non-public cultural assets by collaborating with external resources for joint management, maintenance, and activation, to restore the original appearance of cultural assets.
- 8. Enhancing patrol and management of high-risk dengue fever areas, and ensuring environmental cleanup of national non-public land to reduce the risk of dengue fever transmission.
- 9. Introducing private capital to cooperate in the development and construction of office buildings through land-for-building exchanges, achieving mutual benefits and enhancing the efficiency of national land utilization.
